

Lees-McRae College offers a flat-rate rental program to our students in an effort to provide affordable and timely delivery of all textbooks and resources for their coursework without any additional out of pocket expense.

In accordance with Federal regulations, effective July 1, 2016, Lees-McRae College must establish a policy under which an eligible Title IV financial aid recipient may opt out of the rental program.

Policy for Title IV Financial Aid Recipients

- Title IV aid recipients have the option of purchasing books at their own expense from other sources such as Amazon or halfprice.com or other vendors. It is the responsibility of the student to purchase all required books for the program should they opt out of the program.
- It is the student's responsibility to review the book list on our website and confirm the title and ISBN number for the current book being used for the course with their instructor, as editions can change frequently.
- Students will be charged the flat-rate fee upon enrollment. Upon receiving official notice that a student wishes to opt-out of the program, the fee will be credited. It will then be understood that the College is no longer responsible for issuing textbooks to the student. In the event that a financial aid refund has already been issued to the student, the charge will not be reversed.
